Committee on Appropriations

Dear Chairwoman DeLauro and Ranking Member Cole:

On behalf of the 57 undersigned organizations representing the Nursing Community Coalition, we respectfully request your support of $278 million for the Nursing Workforce Development programs (Title VIII of the Public Health Service Act [42 U.S.C. 296 et seq.]) and $182 million for the National Institute of Nursing Research (NINR, National Institutes of Health) in Fiscal Year (FY) 2021. It is crucial that we continue to fund these programs that are essential to providing high-quality, patient-centered care for all Americans. As we celebrate the Year of the Nurse and the Midwife, we appreciate the Subcommittee's strong commitment to nursing workforce and research and urge you to continue to safeguard the public's well-being by sustaining and increasing these critical federal investments.

With more than four million practitioners, nurses make up the largest group of health professionals in the United States. The Nursing Community Coalition represents these Registered Nurses (RNs), Advanced Practice Registered Nurses (including Certified Nurse-Midwives, Nurse Practitioners, Clinical Nurse Specialists, and Certified Registered Nurse Anesthetists), nurse leaders, nursing students, faculty, and researchers, as well as other nurses with advanced degrees. Our members know first-hand how impactful Title VIII Nursing Workforce Development programs, and NINR, are to guaranteeing American's have access to high-quality nursing care.

Administered by the Health Resources and Services Administration, the Title VIII Nursing Workforce Development programs bolster nursing education at all levels, support institutions that educate future nurses, strengthen the nursing workforce, and are essential to ensuring the demand for nursing care is met throughout the country. From the classroom to the bedside, and across a variety of settings, these programs increase access to care in communities that need it most; those in rural and underserved areas.

For more than three decades, scientific endeavors at NINR have been integral to advancing the health of our nation. As one of the 27 Institutes and Centers at the National Institutes of Health, NINR funds research that is foundational for evidence-based nursing practice. From disease prevention and global health, to precision medicine and genomic studies, NINR is at the forefront of nursing science and research.

In this Year of the Nurse and the Midwife, we thank you for your strong commitment to nursing workforce and research and urge you to support $278 million for the Title VIII Nursing Workforce Development Programs and $182 million for the National Institute of Nursing Research in FY 2021 to ensure our patients and communities have access to these vital programs. If our organizations can be of any assistance, or if you have any questions, please contact the Nursing Community Coalition's Executive Director, Rachel Stevenson, at rstenenson@thenursingcommunity.org or at 202-463-6930, ext. 271.
